Welland & Wye presents Janwardar

Welland & Wye introduces Janwardar, a new crewel-embroidered fabric designed in collaboration with the Royal School of Needlework (RSN) Archive at Hampton Court Palace. Inspired by a rare 1930s design, Janwardar (meaning “bird design”) has been reimagined into a soft repeat pattern, ideal for curtains, upholstery, and soft furnishings.

Each metre is hand-embroidered in Kashmir using naturally dyed wool threads, combining heritage craftsmanship with timeless elegance. Available in muted pinks, greens, and blues, Janwardar embodies Welland & Wye’s English country-house style — equally at home in classic or contemporary interiors.

Available by the metre and as ready-made cushions at www.wellandandwye.com and at Hobo Design, Petworth.
